nine Wheeling physicians against the ap pointment of Dr. Garrison, puts in tem perate and dignified language the freely expressed feeling of the profession. Surely not all these men are biased against the appointee, the appointing power and the party which becomes responsible for the wanton strain on the Board of Health. That the Governor will be moved to any action in the premises, is not much to be expected. Probably the physicians have not told him anything he did not know before. The public mind will be im pressed, however, and the physicians of West Virginia will be given credit for a desire to save the State Board of Health from being dragged down to serve the purposes of politicians. The resolution offered by Dr. T. A. Harris, of Parkers burg, is not less interesting and important:

Itsolved: That the Medical Society of the State of West Virginis respectfully recommend to the Board of Regents of our public institution, that in selecting medical offlicers they should choose those men whose character, habits and acquiremen whose character, habits and acquire-ments are such as to give assurance of a faithful and efficient discharge of public duty. We would urgently recommend that appointments should be made with special reference to fitness for the duties to be performed, and that such salaries should be paid as will secure the services of thoroughly competent men.

This was well understood to refer to the Hospital for the Incane, and was intended to be a protest against the reappointment of Dr. Bland as Superintendent of that mismanaged institution. The Medical Soclety did itself credit by passing this resolution of condemnation and exhortation,

A severe Arraignment.

At the meeting of the State Medical Society regolutions were adopted which severely arraign Democratic administration in West Virginia. These resolutions go to the world as the unanimous voice of a professional body of high standing composed of men of all shades of political opinion. It is of further interest to know that each set of resolutions was offered by a Democrat. Politics has, of course, nother than the second of the state of the second of th

Fifteen minutes after he left the house the dog returned with the man's hat in his month. The family found that a hole had been burned in the top of the hat, and going out into the field found Gerrand lying dead upon the ground. He had been killed by a stroke of lightning.

THE GARFIELD FAMILY. Miss Mullie and Her Sister-The Clevelar

The memory of the Garfield family is recalled by the statement that Mollie Garfield, the President's daughter, is to be married to J. Stanley Brown in September. Mr. Brown is best remembered as Mr Garfield's private secretary, and as the man who rendered such tender but effi-cient service when the victim of Guiteau's bullet lay stretched upon his death bed.

Although many years the young lady' senior, he is credited with having been senior, he is credited with having been a gallant wooer, and the affection between the two is said to be most tender. It had its birth, indeed, in those sorry times at Washington and Elberon.—Whether or to the wedding will be public has not yet been decided, but the privacy in which the family now live would indicate a cuter expression.

which the family now live would indicate a quiet ceremony.

But little eocial gayety, as the term is popularly understood, finds its way into the Gariield home at Mentor. The members of the family have access to the best of Oleveland society, but they rarely avail themselves of its opportunities. Meet of the surroundings of the place remain unchanged. They were the special pride of the dead statesman, and they are allowed to remain now, not so much because they are perfect as because they were planned by the departed. Indoors the same is true. Several of the rooms, notably the library and the bed-room which the President most faucied, are exactly as he left library and the bed-room which the President most fancied, are exactly as he left them. A few additional weights have been placed upon the books and papers, but otherwise their arrangement; is the same. Mrs. Garfield still owns the house in Cleveland, and the purse presented to her places the family above all want.

Female Education in Russin.

Statistics have just been issued as to the number of women who have studied at Russian universities in 1886. The total number of female students amount to 879, and of these 243 studied philosophy and 533 different branches of mathematics; 587 belong to the Greek Church and 139 were Jews; 748 were unmarried, and 31 married; 437 of the daughters of noblemen; officers, or Government officials, 89 were daughters of Russian priests, 125 of merchants, 117 of private citizens, 10 of peasants, 4 of soldiers, and 2 were foreigners. That the 2sal for formale education in Russia is still as great as ever is shown not only by the above figures, but also by the fact that a Warsaw lady has recently given 15,000 rubles for a high gehool for women to be built at Warsaw. Statistics have just been issued as to the Here's an Admission, Mr. Biaine confidently expects to be the candidate of the Republican party for the Presidency in 1888, He has very good reasons for his confidence. His great strength at the polls was proved in 1884.

New York Times.

This is a confession which we never expected the enemies of Mr. Blaine to make For six months before the election the For six months before the election the Times asserted on every occasion and with the sharpest emphasis that Mr. Blaine was the weakest candidate whom the Re-publicans could have placed in nomina-tion. Now in a hot-weather spasm of candor it admits that "his great strength at the polls was proved in 1884," and pro-ceeds with a precipitate rush to demon-strate that this—phenomenal strength would be weakened in 1888.
